

Hello!

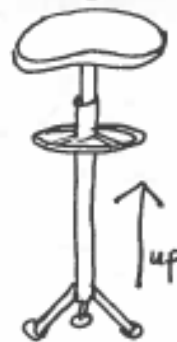

My name is Debi Gliori and I'm a writer and illustrator of books for children.

Every day, I leave my house in Scotland, walk for 30 seconds across the garden, and go into my 'International Shedquarters' where I draw pictures and dream up ideas for new books.

In my Shed (quarters) I have a drawing table

a very comfy tractor seat that goes up and down

a plan chest

for drawings

three daylight lights

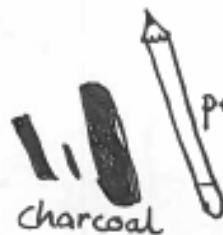

(it's very dark in Scotland in winter)

lots of paints

gouache

pencils

pastel<sup>stick</sup> pastels

oh, and a very important thing

Very Important Thing

my cauldron.

Actually, that's made up. I don't have a cauldron.

I've made over seventy, 70, 70! books. That's a lot.

Have you read any of them? I do hope so. Some of my favourites are translated into lots of different languages so that children all round the world can read them too. Here's a wee list of some of my books you might like to read —

The Trouble With Dragons

No Matter What

The Scariest Thing of All

What's the Time, Mr Wolf?

All the Way Home

The Hobriean Alphabet

Dragon Loves Penguin

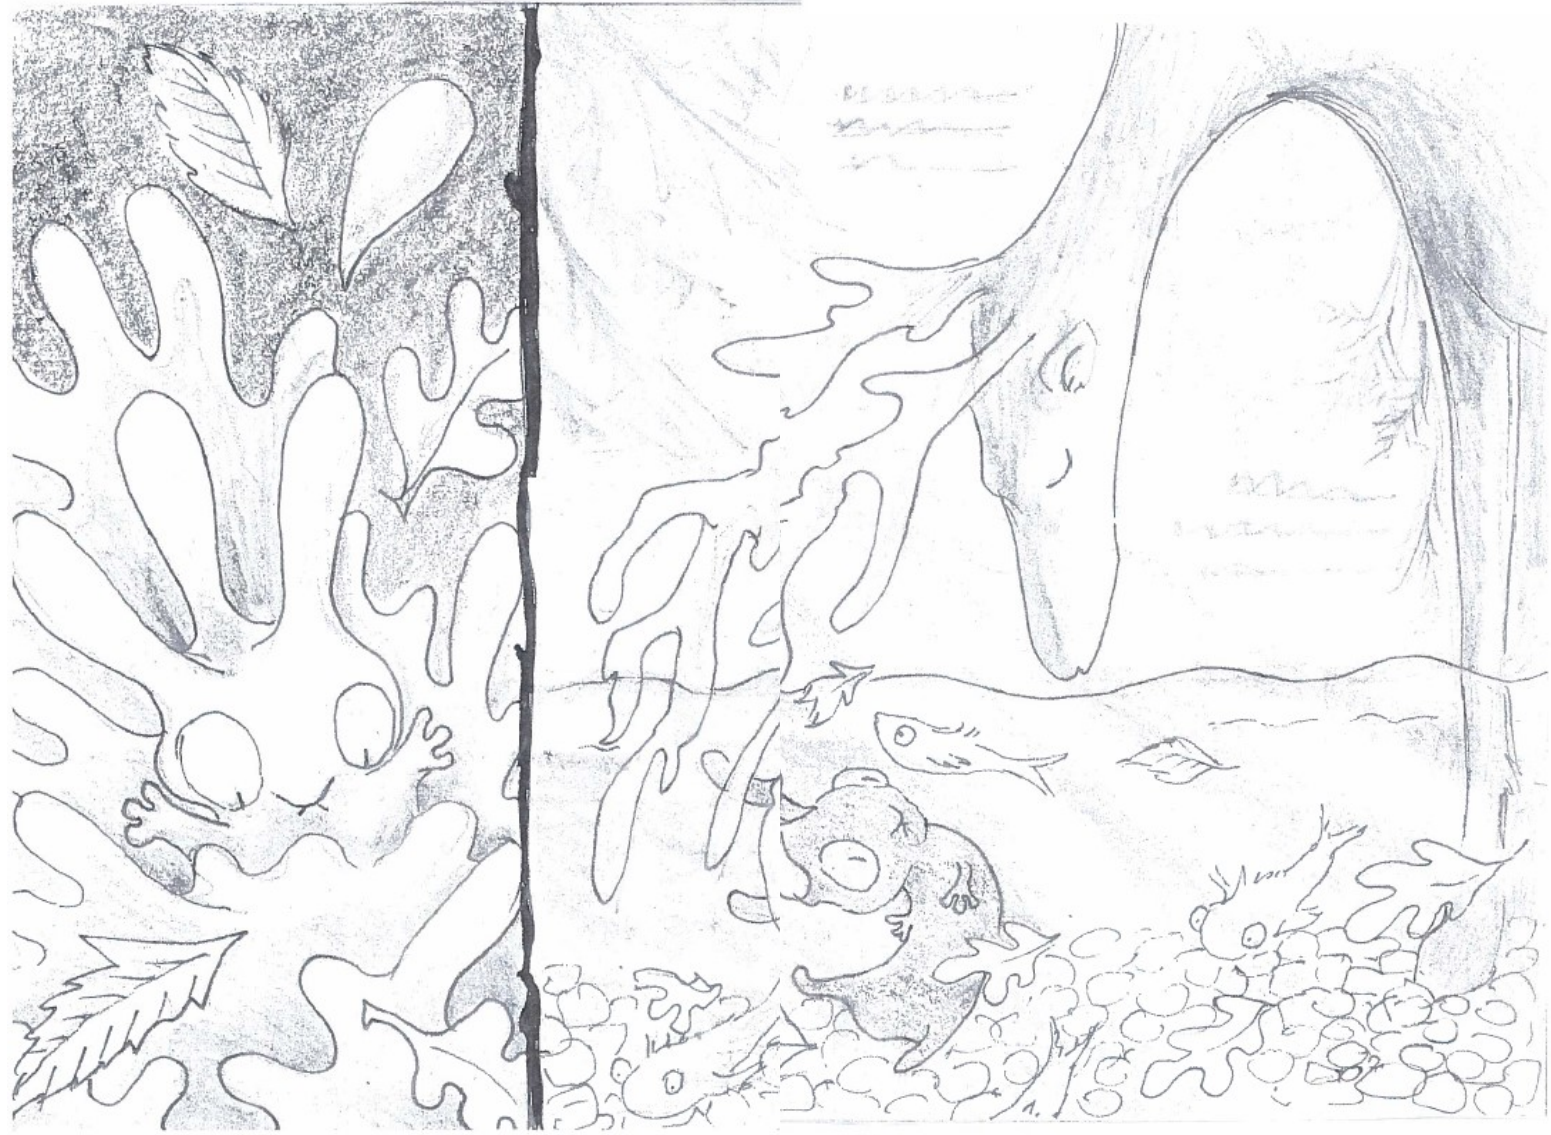

Goodnight World

Do let me know if you like them? I love when children write to me.

Happy reading, writing and drawing to you all.

Lots of love, Debi Gliori

this is a rough drawing from my new book, The Boy and The Moonimal.
I haven't finished it yet.....

also ↑ from my newest, not - finished - yet, book .
