

Grammar retrieval—ON THE SHEET

Which of these sentences has a relative clause? Tick and cross

Mrs Nel, who was very organised, managed to buy all her presents for Christmas.

Even though Mrs Hotchkiss forgot her clipboard for swimming, the children all remembered their locker numbers.

Calmly and without any fuss, Isabella completed all her homework.

Max, who was determined and focused, finished another novel.

Mrs Gregan, who is the Year 6 teacher, enjoys making her lessons challenging but fun.

Exhausted by the long walk to the beach, Mrs Mather decided to make herself a cup of tea.

Now look back at the sentences you have ticked. Highlight the relative clause in one colour and the main clause in another.

Look back at all the sentences—circle the subject and verb in each one.

Grammar retrieval—COPY INTO BOOK

Can you add a relative clause to these simple sentences - making them complex sentences (MC+RC)

Copy them into your book

Amber scored a goal.

Jacob loved his new glasses.

- write of your own—subject—people in your family

Grammar retrieval—COP INTO BOOK

Copy these sentences and punctuate them correctly exhausted by the heat of the day mrs Hotchkiss went for a nap running back to her car Miss Forster knew she was late for her appointment

while the pizzas cooked Jackie made some fabulous muffins

lexi who loved to write was delighted to receive a diary slowly and without a sound the great oak door opened