

Birthplace	Knowing the ways in which people are different but making sure that they are valued and included fully and fairly in every day life.
Equality	Our ethnicity is shaped by our culture. This includes things like the languages we speak, the religious beliefs we might have and the customs and traditions we may take part in. But when we speak about race, we are usually speaking about physical things like skin colour, hair texture and facial features.
Diversity	... is about how visible different groups are in everyday life. Do all groups get to have a say in how things are run? Do we learn about their lives, their history and their interests or are these things overlooked for some groups of people?
Representation	We come from different cultural and racial backgrounds. We may speak a range of languages, have different religions, and may have different customs and traditions such as names, cultural celebrations, favourite foods and popular games. We call this diversity.
Ethnicity and Race	The city, town, village and country where we were born.
